

①

Economics Method ^{course} 7 A/B - Paper

Facilities And Equipments

Economics is a dynamic process. Concepts regarding educational systems have changed with time and place. In the ancient period teaching was limited to only oral lecture and no teaching aids were used. However this system had a number of short comings, In this students remained passive listeners and he enjoyed no place in the educational system.

The credit for these changes goes to Comenius, Pestalozzi and Rousseau. As a result of their work, students now became active listeners.

Teaching aids help to make the content interesting and attractive. It simplifies the process of learning. The knowledge can not be obtained by lectures.

Teaching aids have proved very useful in the following fields:-

- ① To obtain actively based knowledge.
- ② To obtain informative knowledge.
- ③ To motivate students for learning.
- ④ To obtain effective knowledge.
- ⑤ To teach successfully.